TABLE OF CONTENTS

	pages
FOREWORD	7
H.M. Keller : "Results of research and its use by the decision maker : the issue of water quality from forest lands"	9
PART ONE : Land Use and Non-Point Source Pollution	21
J.M. Dorioz, A. Ferhi, E. Pilleboue, M. Dray, P. Olive : "Sediment impact on phosphorus transport in a river system"	25
A. Leszczynski : "Land use impacts on streams in the basin of Skierniewka river"	35
A. Hillbricht-Ilkowska : "The phosphorus and its bio-availability in the runoff waters exported by the lake watersheds of different geochemical character"	49
J.A. Hudson : "The effects of land-use change, particularly grassland improvement, on the rates of nutrient losses from upland wales"	61

J.D. Balades, M. Cathelain, P. Marchandise, J. Peybernard, J.C. Pilloy : "Chronic pollution of intercity motorway runoff waters"	89
E. Pieczynska : "Littoral communities and lake eutrophication"	105
E. Chauvet and E. Fustec : "Importance of the transfer and the fate of terrestrial organic matter in large river system : the case of the Garonne valley"	119
S.O. Ryding : "Identification and quantification of nonpoint source pollution as a base for effective lake management"	127
J.J. Gril, F. Jarry, C. Michel and M. Normand : "Attempt of hydrologic characterization of a small farming watershed from rain simulation" (Abstract).....	135

PART TWO : Data Processing and Modelling as a Tool for Decision Making

B. Caussade, M. Prat : "Small watershed models : results and perspectives"	141
G. Jolankai : "Non-point source pollution modelling results for an agricultural watershed in Hungary".	165

J. Lauga : "Adaptative forecasting of drainage-basin dynamics : a potential tool for managers"	191
H.L. Golterman : "Monitoring river water quality - To what end ?"	203
P. Bielek : "Nitrogen and its transformation in various pedoclimatic conditions in respect to hydrosphere protection" (Abstract)	213
J. Lehocky : "Contamination of natural waters as a result of utilization of chemical agriculture" (Abstract).....	215

PART THREE : From Scientific Information to Management 217

R.C. Herndon and J.E. Moerlins : "Monitoring considerations in the siting and operation of hazardous waste disposal facilities in temperate wet environments"	219
E.A. Fernald and J.H. Cason : "Development of an artificial marsh in Tallahassee, Florida : lake Jackson, a case study"	229
A. Chalamet : "Nitrogen and the study of drainage basins".....	243
G. Pinay : "Impact of a riparian forest on the nitrogen content of phreatic water in the Garonne basin"	303

D. Pierre and A. Mariotti : "Water and nitrogen balances in a small drainage basin South-West of Toulouse (France)"	319
S. Hénin : "An analysis of the French method (procedure) of reducing nitrate pollution".....	331
S. Sébillotte : "Integration of scientific information in the French program against non-point source pollution from agriculture" (Abstract)	345
M. Wargalla : "A synthesis of scientific information into a form useful for managers" (Abstract)	347
